

The EBU-Silver title

- From the 1st of September 2023 on the EBU-Silver title replaces the EU- and the EEU- titles.
- There is one monthly EBU-Rating for male and one EBU-rating for female listing all boxers that merit according to the EBU-Ratings standards.
- The actual EU-champion is automatically the new EBU-Silver champion, the actual EEU-champion is automatically the new EBU-Silver champion; if this is not possible because there is an EU- and an EEU-champion in the same weight division, the EU-champion prevails and is the new EBU-Silver champion and the EEU-champion is his official challenger resp. the next following official challenger.
- The first 20 ones of the rated contenders in each weight division are eligible to fight for the full EBU-title, always according to the EBU-Ratings standards.
- All EBU-rated contenders are eligible to fight for the EBU-Silver title, always according to the EBU-Ratings standards.
- The Silver champion is entitled to receive the no. 4 EBU-rating in each weight division; the EBU-Council at its full discretion may decide not to rate him at no. 4 if there is not enough merit.
- The EBU-Silver-title is available only in male weight-divisions with at least ten (10) rated boxers and in female weight-divisions with at least six (6) rated boxers.
- If no EBU-rated boxer among the first 20 contenders is available to fight for the EBU-title, the EBU-Council may on recommendation of the Ratings Commission decide to accept a lower EBU-rated contender as challenger.
(Also for the EBU voluntary defences, a contender rated lower than #20 must be pre-approved)
- The EBU-fees and -expenses regarding the Silver title are the same as for the EU- and EEU-titles (Euro 2'000.- for all the divisions, Euro 1'000.-for the belt and expenses of Euro 400.- for each Ring Official and the Supervisor).
